DETAILED ACTION

The following is a response to the amendment received on October 3, 2005 which has been entered.

Response to Amendment

Claims 1 and 4-9 are pending in the application. Claims 7-9 are newly added.

-The 102(b) rejection of claim 1 and the 103(a) rejection of claim 2 has been withdrawn due to applicant amending claim 1 patentable over the prior art used in the rejection (Livezey '769, Folsom et al '855 and Ishimori '305).

-The information disclosure statement filed September 16, 2005 has been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 7 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Livezey in view of JP 2000220737A. Livezey discloses a transmission having a stepless change speed unit (107, 109) receiving power from an engine, a gear transmission (138, 140) receiving power from the change speed unit and disposed rearwardly of the engine, a rear wheel differential (21) receiving power from the gear transmission and disposed rearwardly of the engine and a transmission case (23) accommodating the gear transmission and differential mechanism and coupled to the engine wherein the change speed unit is disposed rearwardly (behind) of the gear transmission and the differential mechanism. Livezey doesn't disclose a first motor attached to a front face of a port block and a second motor attached to a rear face of the port block.

The JP reference discloses a transmission having a first motor (22) attached to a front face of a port block (32) and a second motor (23) attached to a rear face of the port block wherein one motor is a fixed capacity and the other motor is a variable capacity.

It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide Livezey with a first and second motor on opposite sides of a port block in view of the JP reference to reduce the size of the transmission and reduce cost for circulating hydraulic oil in a closed circuit.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1 and 4-6 are allowed. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art of record does not disclose or render obvious a motivation to provide for:

-a traveling transmission apparatus having an HST with a port block that is detachably secured to a rear end opening of a transmission case for closing the opening wherein the port block has a first motor attached to an inner face and a second motor attached to an outer face and in combination with all the remaining limitations of claim 1.

Art Unit: 3681

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Claim 9 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

FACSIMILE TRANSMISSION

Submission of your response by facsimile transmission is encouraged. Group 3600's facsimile number is (703) 872-9326 before final and 703-872-9327 after final. Recognizing the fact that reducing cycle time in the processing and examination of patent applications will effectively increase a patent's term, it is to your benefit to submit responses by facsimile transmission whenever permissible. Such submission will place the response directly in our examining group's hands and will eliminate Post Office processing and delivery time as well as the PTO's mail room processing and delivery time. For a complete list of correspondence not permitted by facsimile transmission, see MPEP 502.01. In general, most responses and/or amendments not requiring a fee, as well as those requiring a fee but charging such fee to a deposit account, can be submitted by facsimile transmission. Responses requiring a fee which applicant is paying by check should not be submitting by facsimile transmission separately from the check.

Responses submitted by facsimile transmission should include a Certificate of Transmission (MPEP 512). The following is an example of the format the certification might take:

I hereby certify that this correspondence is being facsimile transmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office (Fax No. (703) 000-0000) on _____ (Date)

Typed or printed name of person signing this certificate:

(Signature)

If your response is submitted by facsimile transmission, you are hereby reminded that the original should be retained as evidence of authenticity (37 CFR 1.4 and MPEP 502.02). Please do not separately mail the original or another copy unless required by the Patent and Trademark Office. Submission of the original response or a follow-up copy of the response after your response has been transmitted by facsimile will only cause further unnecessary delays in the processing of your application; duplicate responses where fees are charged to a deposit account may result in those fees being charged twice.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
